Very Interesting from Concord. THE HARD AND SOFT SHELL DELEGATIONS FROM NEW YORK—OYSTER HOUSE CAUCUSSING—DEPAR-TURE OF GEN. PIERCE, ETC.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE NEW YORK HERALD. CONCORD, Jan. 22, 1853. General Pierce returned to Andover this forenoon where he will spend the Sabbath. Both of the New York committees left by the same train. While here, the softs and bards took a social game of whist together, at the Eagle. The hards were beaten, and paid for oysters-stewed, fried, roasted, scolloped, raw and in the shell, besides the fixings. Although rumor for a while had it that a cabinet mem ber fer New York had been agreed on between them, it is now pretty certain that they only arrived at a conclusion as to the superior quality of Gibson's systems and the et ceteras. Though willing to sup together, they positively refused to talk with each other concerning cabinet

Gen. Pierce, it is said, declined to see either of the delegations separately-consequently, in order to procure an audience, they were compelled to unite. The mis sion is understood to have effected nothing, and New York must therefore stand back a while longer.

Hon. Daniel Dana, of Syracuse, arrived this forenoon. He was too late-both for the oysters, and to meet the other New York brethren. More delegations from the State of New York are ex

From Washington City. EXCITEMENT ABOUT THE NEW CABINET-RUMORS OF DISAPPOINTMENT, ETC.
SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE NEW YORK HERALD. Washington, Jan. 22, 1853.

You will give me credit for a marked omission of any rumors or gossip as to the formation of General Pierce's cabinet; but matters have now arrived at that condition that it is necessary I should advise you of them, and I do so without expressing any opinion whatever, and with no other desire than to record facts. The announcement that General Pierce intends to place M. W. in his criti-colour proceeding the free soil interests on the one band, and Jefferson Pavis, as representing the late secesgreat body of the democratic members, representing what is known as the national democratic party, with feelings of the deepest pain; and no secret is made of the disap-pointment which such a cabinet would create. This is not caused by any personal desires, for the gentlemen most dissatisfied are those who want no office, and upon whom the next administration will be more dependent than they will be on the administration. They contend that the Presidential campaign was fought upon the platform of the compromise act, and that, although all the segments of the party accepted the platform, it ill becomes the men who steed aloof from the party, and who caused its defeat in 1848, now to appropriate the conduct of the administration. Minor offices they may have in abundance; but the heads of departments—the political appointments—should be given to that portion of the party which always adhered to it, and represents its nationality. This is the position of affairs, and from its very nature it is almost impossible that General Pierce should be advised of it. The democratic party in Congress has no desire to dictate who shall form the cabinet, nor would those whose opinions would be worth having intrude their advice upon General Pierce unasked. This, however, does not reader them less sensitive to the injuries which intrigues may entail. If Gen. Pierce chose to ask the candid opinions of the members of the democratic party, he would doubtless receive such readies approach in the capital party, he would doubtless receive such readies a would show him the exercise upon whom the next administration will be more of the members of the democratic party, he would doub less receive such replies as would show him the exact position of affairs, and he could indge how far such opin-ions are entitled to weight. And such a course would have this advantage, that, as the letters would be pri-vate, undue publicity would not attend it. X. Y. Z.

Mr. Tabor said that the Common Council had proceeded against State rights. He believed it was a gross fraud, and the remon why the road war an investigation, it hopes that the bill before the Senate might thereby be delayed until they had commenced their work. Manhattan Island is a part of the State of New York, and the Logislature, to nevent the perpetration of any fraud which it is the intention of a local body like the Common Council, to commit. The Atlorney General has it in contemplation to file a quo verranto against the Common council, for granting the Broadway railroad charter. Mr. Babecel said the granting of this charter, in the face of the Legislature, was a usurpation of power by the Common Council. He was in New York a few days since, and was waited upon by a large number of the most influential clitizens, who implored him to use his influence in preventing the consummation of that enormous wrong. There appears to be only one voice on the whole island, and that was in denomeing the corruption. Even members of the Common Council, when charged with the wrong, do not deny lit. Is the Common Council above and beyond the authority of the Stater. It is high time the fact was tested whether the Legislature have any power over the city. If the Common Council can authorize the construction of one railroad, they can do the same in every street, and thus encamber the whole city, as some of the streets now are. He believed every person owning lots could prosecute for a nuisance. The Common Council asy that no redress can be had. If that is the case, then the time has come for a revolution. If redress cannot be afforded by the Legislature, then there will be a revolution, even at the point of the bayonet.

Mr. Cocley said it was the most grave and important subject that would be brought before the Senate. It is notorious that the Common Council have branded themselves as a set of disgraceful men. This system of robbery, if continued, must produce a revolution, and nothing slort of it. This ges. Jeman was very a inst State rights. He believed it was a gross fraud

The bill before the Senate will pass on Monday.

Mr. Vanderbilt gave notice of a bill to complete the canals. He proposes to create a State stock, reimbursable from the canal revenues, without imposing a tax; and also to amend the constitution so as to enable the Legislature to create such stock. This is the first proposition that has been submitted, and coming from that distinguished Senator, will receive much consideration. But this is not the plan of the administration—that will be submitted in the House, through the Ways and Means and Canal Committee.

Mr. Cooley's joint resolutions were defeated in the House by the casting vote of the Speaker, Mr. Luddow. There were fifteen democrate and thirty-one whige in favor, and forty-seven democrate and one whig against them. Thirty-three members were absent. Several dodged the question; some voted in the negative, who had axes to grind. A motion to reconsider will be made on Monday. The noise and confusion in Old Tanumany have reached the cars of the Legislature. Mr. Bartholemev T. Gilmore, from the Sixth Assembly district, (hunker.) has given notice of a bill to repeal the act incorporating the Society of Tanumany; and Mr. Geo. F. Aiden, (hard hunker.) of the Fifth district, moved for a select committee to investigate the affairs of Tanumany, incorporated for charitable or political purposes. Laid over.

charter of the Harlem Railroad.

Mr. TABER (whig) doubted whether the resolution should pass. Some general bill, regulating the construction of railways in that city, should also pass. Evidently, by the very form of the island upon which New York is built, a great system of railways is to be instituted there. Business will be done at one end of the city, and esidences will be at the other. In building railroads in the State, owners of property are compensated for their land taken, but in the city the mere will of the Corporathe State, owners of property are compensated for their land taken, but in the city the mere will of the Corporation is all that is necessary. Perhaps the only remedy is to compel a resort to the higher power of the Legislature. He would shut down the gate at once on this project, rather than by a long winded investigation give an opportunity for the consummation of a gigantic fraud. He had heard from all classes and conditions that it was a great fraud, and he had heard no one in all New York speak of it but as such. He found that the resolution of inquiry would occupy the session, to the exclusion of the legislation so necessary to arrest the evil.

Mr. Bartlart, (dem...) said, a body of respectable citizens finding themselves charged with certain grave of feaces, ask of the Legislature an investigation of these charges, and this seems to be a fair and just request.

Mr. Barcock, (whig.) inferred that the passage of this resolution would, in reality, prevent such action as would relieve the people of that city. The Common Council of New York, vaunting their purity in the face of the Legislature, is the most remarkable instance of coolness ever heard. If they are pure, then in all modern and ancient history never were men so abused. Citizens of New York had implored him, as a member of the Legislature, to do nothing for their relief. There is but one sentiment in the length and breadth of Manhaltan Island, as to the character of the Common Council. The time has come when it is to be settlet whether New York city is an empire—a community by itself—or whether the Legislature has a coxtrol over the city and over its Common Council. If the full and complete power over the streets is in the Common Council, without appeal, then are thousands of ditizens ruined. The power to key down all, so that an obstruction equal to the Chinese wall may be put between a man's residence or store and the full and free run of the highway. If the highways deslined for the use of all, may be appropriated by the few and there is no rel

Mr. Inher speedily passed, that the outrage on the citizens of New York may be restrained. Even if the resolution is adopted, he hoped it would not for a day delay action on the bill.

Mr. Cooley (dem.) denounced the conduct of the New York Common Council in the severest terms; such was the outrageous results of this conduct, that if persisted in, it could only lead to revolution. He was opposed to the proposition and by the railway committee, to any inquiry, as tending to delay.

Mr. BERGMAN (whig), said the city of New York suffered under misgovernment too great for description. He alluded to an assessment roll for building a road on the Second avence, which amounted to more than $2,000,000. It was predicted when the Rochelle railroad was last year authorized, but not heeded. If this assessment roll had been binding, the owners of adjacent property would have been ruined. But a few years since, the Legislature by law restricted these assessments, or the greatest imposition would have been suffered. The Corporation of New York is a sort of bank, the directors of which are elected by those who want discounts. A few needy, hungry men meet together and form the nominations by bargain, and the ticket, under the arength of good names, is formed of needy partitiogers, who take the altermanship to make money by it. If he is not a free-holder when he is elected, he is when he ends, or else he does not sell out in time. By the common consent of munithed, the Breadway railroad has been cannelated by fraud. Notwithstanding all the stray of affiliavities appended to the remonstrance, some loop hale of escape would be found. Mr. It. described the various characters of the assessment of previous years, when all the property was swept away for the assessment, and for the behavior. Certainly, it is said, that in the case of the Breadway Railroad, somebody has lost a large sum of money—corrobody has found in—and the continuation of this can be found in the estincency of every other man to be found in the efficiency of the Gene in the State.

Mr. Van Schoonhover (whig) hoped that if on examination, the provisions of Mr. Taker's relicost bill shall be found salariary, they might be extended to all the citie in the State.

Mr. Tanux reviewed the statements male in the petition for an investigation. The recorded evidence was against the memorialists. This record shared that those who petitioned to make this railway, and provide an abundant revenue to the city treasury, were irrust aside to give place to those who decred no such god to the city. Mr. Conount (dem), examined the history of legislative grants for a long series of years. Vill the special legislation asked for remedy the genera evil? Will it be sought to en all on the city of New York, in addition to all their sorrows, the evils of minterminable law sulf? Under the pretence of usufsting New York, will the Legislature add to its burthens? If the prizeiple of granting contracts to the lovest bidder, be a foundation principle of our public economy, why did not the Legislature themselves set upon it, in a precedent which must arise to every man's memory. If the contract of the New York Common Coundl and the corporators in question be founded in fraud the remedy is with the judiciary. Boubiloss there is a great field for reform in all the monicipal nilatirs of New York min is assessment laws, and in all that grows out of it. The system of assessment for beaucit has been practical system of destruction to private rights. Health not believe the Legislature lad any power to sit here and determine the question of parity or impurity on the part of any legislative body. The real remady was by general has a sevene to the citizen his natural rights. The city of New York in dertined to be intersected by railway rou early approach of the first has been a first of any legislative body. The real remady was by general have to secure to the citizen his natural rights. The city of New York in decrease of the improvements they desire.

DECLARATION OF WAR BY THE ISDIANS—RUMORED MASSACRE OF GENERAL HOPKINS AND HIS FORCE.

We were yesterday shown a letter from Florida, says the Savannah Courier, of the 20th inst., which stated that Billy Bowlegs and his followers, have formally declared war against the United States; which we presume, means simply that they are determined not to emigrate to the West. The same letter gave the painful rumor that General Hopkins and his small force had been massecred.

that General Hopkins and his small force had been massacred.

Before adjourning, the Florida Legislature passed an act authorizing the Governor to organize two regiments, to be tendered to the United States government, and providing that if their services were rejected, and the Indians not removed by the first day of May next, the Executive should proceed at once to effect their immediate removal by force, if necessary.

In pursuance of this act, Major A. G. Johnson, formerly of the 18th Regiment in Eccico, was chosen Brigadier General, by an almost unanimous vote. He was in Ecchels' Regiment, and is represented as a brave and meritorious officer, worthy in every respect of the important trust committed to his charge.

A Scene in the Virginia Legislature.-The A SCENE IN THE VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.—The Richmond Dispatch relates the following incident, which occurred recently in the Virginia Legislature:

On Thursday, while the House of Delegates were listening attentively to a speech from Mr. Miller, of Boteleart, on the bill proposing a loan to the James River and Kanawha Company, the members were seddenly brought to their feet, and thrown into a state of exact alexan and conficient by a load heavy. state of great alarm and confusion, by a load, heavy, rambling noise, bearing evidence of a considerable wreck of matter and a crush of glass, threatening the tumbling down of the capitol. A rush was made for the door leading to the rotunda, where the alarm for the door leading to the rotunda, where the alarm of "the terrified" was soon quieted by the discovery that the weight of the snow on the skylights of the dome had croshed that structure, and, together with the glass, had abruptly descended in a volume or avalanche upon the head of General Washington, about one hundred feet below. The magnificent ratue of the father of his country, however, was not injured by the weight of the matter that fell upon it, but stood unmoved, amid the wreck that surrounded it.

HEAVY FORGERIES.-It was currently re ported yesterday, and generally believed, that an individual, formerly a partner in a large and wealthy house in this city, had been detected in the commissome in this city, and been detected in the commission of forgeries to the amount of several thousand dollars. Under existing circum-tances, we do not feel at liberty to give names. The party, it is said, has left the city. We hear of one person alone having in his possession the large amount of two thousand dollars of the forged paper.—Baltimore Clipper, Jan. 21.

Concome, N. H., Nov. 33.—

My Dear Friend—You have been often in my thoughts, since I feedwed your affectionate letter of the litht inst. It was one of the earliest of the kind from my personal irlands: sootling and grateful to me at the time. And it has been placaratt since, to think of you as among those who have trely sympathized with as in this dark hour of overnowering affliction.

Under becavement like this, how trifling—0, how very trifling, do most of the cares, and purposes, and plans of this world appear? We can hardly realize how it is, that our hearts have been so engressed in little matters of the day. We open our eyes, asit werefrom a dream, upon the realities that are around and before us. We see "passing away" written upon all the things of this world. We foot hat we are mere sojourners, probationers here, and seem to estimate with an approximation to fruit, the great interests of eternity, as compared with those of time. I do carnestly desire to keep awake to these matters, not to fall into the spell where, as it were from necessity, we look through a faise medium, which places eternity so far off and gives to the things of time such wast magnitude and dispropertionate importance.

I remember well the conversation on our ride to the G, to which, I suppose, you refer. The convictions of my judgment have long been strong and decided, but the little influence they have had upon my life, is a sai illustration of the great truth, "With the heart man believeth unto rightcousness."

Our dear boy was ill three weeks, and the last four days of It's life was a period of much suffering. In the

Our dear boy was ill three weeks, and the last four days of Ms lie was a period of much suffering. In the midst of our deep sorrow, I and inexpressible relief in the thought that ""t is well e lift the child." He said much, to use his own expression, "of the blossed Jesus," especially on the fabbath. And now his indefinite impressions," and childlish fancies are exchanged for full knowledge and never ending fruition. He is, as we firmly believe. "Where no blight fails On the beautiful rose of youth."

He was a bright, affectionate, manly boy—the pride and loy of his father's heart—the light and life of our some. We now feel, and must long continue to feel, his cas. We are conscious of his absence at every turn. We weep, but the cup of sorrow is not unmingled with rich consolution. I have many things to say to you when we meet. This then, your stricken friend. NISCELLANEOUS.

By a letter from New Carliste, Ohio, we learn that the utmost harmony prevalls among the various religious demoninations in that place, and that the members of all the churches very generously contributed towards the extinction of the devt of the new Christian church just completed for the concregation of the Rev. W. H. Deherly, who has been elected to a professorship in Anticch college. In relation to the harmonising of different religious beliefs, we extract the following from the Boston Transcript:—"It is quite pleasing to observe the tendencies towards Horality and toleration, which exist at the present time among Christians of all rects and denominations. In two towns in this vicinity, the Baptists have erected new degant, and spacious clustels edifices this season and in both instances the chireches have accepted the invitation extended to them by the Unitarian parkies, to occupy their house of worship mult the new structures were finished. In these cases, the Unitarians have correcously dispensed with one of their Sabbath services, and the Baptists have declined to lake their denominational hymn books into their temperary place of worship, but have continued to use the Unitarian collection in their service." A like praise worthy bar monizing of the different denominations of St. Paul, Minnesota, is observable. It is said that the clergymen in that far off region are in the habit of changing weeks around in each other's pulpits, and forget for the time being, the differences of opinion which commonly heep them apart. The world has much cause of hope from these favorable manifestations, that our clergymen are really disposed to foliow the example of the political world, and have an occasional term of peace. The different branches of the great Christian church seem, to the unregenerated part of the community, to be insane, to have all their differences of opinion.

the performance of which is now the subject of universal inquiry and anagement. The whole scientific world is puzzled, and it is curious to observe the nightly presence of those connected with the bar, the bench, the pulpit, with medicine, literature, and the fine arts, cach striving to detect its secret workings—ansuccessfully. The entire repertoire of Mr. Heller is vast and original, embracing the appliances of all known arts and sciences. The Inexhaustible Bottle, as performed by this great Prince of Wizards, is his own invention and property, although others claim it as their own who never had brains chough to invent anything in their lives. The stage and apparatus is unsurpassably magnificent, being fitted up with taste and judgment, of which the multitude of interloping Wizards are devoid. The superb paraphernalia is composed of all the varieties of known and rare woods, papier maché, gold, silver, ormulu, &c.; the costly lace and satin draperies, carpets, and rich velvets, of the finest fabric, being the produce of the marble Palace of A.T. Stewart & Co.; whilst the entire mechanical and scientific apparatus is the work of Mr. Heller's own hands and mind. Performances nightly, commencing at 7½ P. M.; and on Saturdays, at 3 and 7½ P. M.
